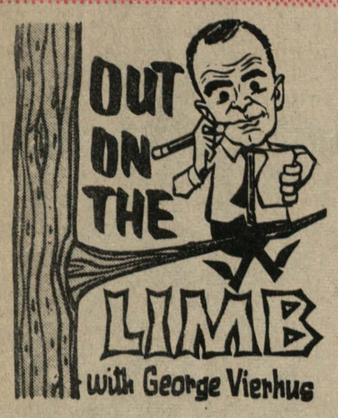
The Campbell Press

Serving the Hub of the West Valley Since 1895

Vol. 74 No. 36 Wednesday, September 7, 1966



QUITE NATURALLY The Campbell Press is proud of the service this paper has rendered to the "Auctioneers & Valuers" in Penzance, Cornwall, England in locating Mrs. Edyth Zamira "regarding various properties in Cornwall in the Estate of Hetty Trembath, deceased."

For the information for those of you who tuned in late, a few weeks ago The Press received a communication from an estate agent firm in Cornwall, England explaining that they were anxious to trace Mrs. Edyth Zamica. The letter asked us to, "kindly insert in your newspaper The Campbell Press which we understand is a weekly local paper for four consecutive weeks the following notice"...

THE NOTICE requested that Mrs. Edyth Zamica, daughter of the late Richard Trembath, last known address 279 Esther Ave., Campbell, Calif., write to J. A. Treglown & Sons, Estate Agents, regarding her late aunt's estate in Cornwall, England.

The note concluded with the following instructions: "Kindly let us have a copy of this notice and your charges in due course ... Yours faithfully, J. A. Treglown.

SUCH A REQUEST, of course, was a wee bit out of the ordinary. One might say that the contacts The Press has in England are quite limited.

For that reason we ran the request on the front page under the head "Query from England".

And, by golly, the person the estate agents were looking for, Mrs. Zamira (not "Zamica", however) was contacted by a former neighbor who read the story shortly after the paper was out.

MRS. ZAMIRA, through her attorney, immediately got in touch with the estate agent. Naturally we gave a big spread complete with pictures in the next issue of The Press.

Actually we did not follow instructions completely.

The notice only appeated once (not four times as requested); We did not send a copy to the firm and there are no charges for this service.

But we were certain that the Cornwall firm wouldn't mind.

THE FOLLOWING note we have received confirmed that:

"With further reference to our letter of 18th of August, we are pleased to advise you that through your medium we have received a telegram from a Mrs. Edyth Zamica and are now in communication with her.

"It will therefore be unnecessary for this

Monday is big day

Thousands head back to classes

All schools in the Campbell area will be in full swing next week with Monday, Sept. 12, scheduled as the starting date for the majority of the institutions of learning.

West Valley College opened on Tuesday of this week as did St. Lucy's Catholic school. But next Monday is really the main event.

Campbell Union High School District in its six high schools, expects to have 12,000 students based on preregistration figures. Leigh High leads the pack with 2528 with Blackford, 2040; Camden, 2022; Westmont, 1972; Del Mar, 1705; and Campbell, 1630.

Both Moreland and Cambrian elementary school districts which have schools in the Campbell area have planned for an increase in enrollment this year, although the increase is not expected to be as great as in previous years.

CAMPBELL DISTRICT

Campbell Union (elementary) School District's 19 schools will have a full day of instruction next Monday.

Enrollment is expected to reach 11,500 this year, an increase of 300 from the previous year.

NEW TEACHERS

According to Neal Royer, district superintendent, 54 new teachers have been employed to replace those teachers who have retired, returned to graduate school, moved to other areas or for other reasons. This figure also includes additional teachers needed for the 300 hike in enrollment. There are 454 classroom teachers in the district plus 19 principals and five vice-principals.

Royer also reports that only nine buses will be used this year by the district to transport students who live at a great distance or who reside in areas where walking is determined to be unsafe.

SCHOOL BUSES

Except for the special education classes, Royer explained that bus transportation is not required for 11 of the 19 schools. Less than one third of the total enrollment is transported by bus.

The superintendent also added that food service facilities are ready to serve more than 4000 hot lunches on opening day. Menus are ready for distribution and the 35¢ daily price per lunch will remain in effect again this year. Students may purchase weekly tickets on Monday of each week for $1.75.

Although four additional sites have been acquired by the district, no new schools will be in operation this year and no building plans are on the drawing boards at the present time, Royer said.

Castlemont and Capri, opened in 1964, are the newest of the 19 schools in the system.

SAN TOMAS

Royer has announced that Rcihard Leyva has been named interim principal for San Tomas School until Jack Fischer, principal at that school since 1953, fully recovers from recent surgery.

Although there are no other "new" principals in the district, a number of administrative shifts have been made.

Ralph Dill, former principal of Parkway, is now principal at Cypress and Tony VanLaarhoven, former Cypress principal, is now at Hazelwood.

Duane Beaubien, former principal at Hazelwood, takes over at Parkway.

PRINCIPALS

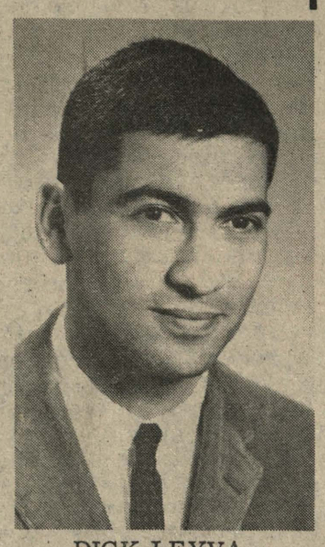
JACK FISCHER



DICK LEYVA

Until Jack Fischer, principal of San Tomas School since 1953, fully recovers from the surgery he underwent in July, Dick Leyva, will be acting as "interim" principal at the school, Neal Royer, district superintendent, has announced.

Leyva came to the district in 1961 and is classified as a "master teacher" and has taught at both Forest Hill and Rolling Hills schools.

Leyva, who has administrative credentials, had been named by Royer as foreign language consultant for the district as well as teacher of Spanish.

When Fischer resumes his post at San Tomas, Leyva will take up his duties in the foreign language field.

Leyva, who was born in Morgan Hill, was graduated from San Jose State after completing a four-year stint in the army.

He and his wife, Kathie, and their three youngsters reside at 1414 Helmond Ln., San Jose.

Fischer, long-time active in community affairs, and his wife Sarah, reside at 950 Almarida Dr., Campbell. They have one son who is a graduate of Campbell High and is attending college.

San Tomas has an enrollment of 457 and there are 15 teachers on the staff.

Fischer came to the district in 1953 after teaching in the Palo Alto system and immediately was assigned as San Tomas principal. At that time, was one of only six schools in the district compared to 19 today.

Delinquent taxes top $100,000 in Campbell

Delinquent property taxes amounted to $109,465.16 within the city limits of Campbell during the fiscal year of 1965-66 or 3.24% of the total tax bill for property owners, according to Louis A. Lopes, county tax collector.

Property taxes for the city taxpayers totalled $3,374,415 of which $3,264,949.84 was collected during the fiscal year.

According to the county tax collector, during the fiscal year of 1965-66 more than $161 million in current realty property taxes in the county were collected, an increase of $16.5 million over the previous fiscal year.

Total delinquencies for the county were $4,248,779.53 or 2.56%, .10 of one per cent more than the last fiscal year. Delinquencies are being redeemed quite rapidly, according to Lopes.

Lopes also reported that other collections of property tax redemption, insecured personal property, penalties and costs, brought total collection for the fiscal year to $178,777,355,62.

Milpitas had the highest delinquency rate of the 15 cities of the county that include both city and county taxes (Palo Alto collects its own city tax) with 5.34% delinquency followed by Mt. View with 5.32% and Cupertion with 5.29%.

The rate for Los Gatos was 2.81% compared to Campbell's 3.24%. Four other cities in addition to Campbell in the county were above 3% (Morgan Hill, 3.85%; Los Altos Hills, 3.22%; Monte Sereno, 3.22%; Sunnyvale, 3.10%)

Los Altos had the lowest delinquency rate in the county with 1.36%. Out of the total tax levy of $5,623,823.63 only $76,775.77 went delinquent.

San Jose with a total tax bill of $57,663,475.79 had a 2.99% delinquency rate with $1,727,877.97 delinquent.

INSTRUCTOR--Police Captain Carl Arnold gives Don Burr, Jr. (left) and Jimmy Crowther some idea of what will be included in the hunters' safety course that will be offered by the Campbell Police Department on Saturday, Sept. 17.

Capt. Arnold will be assisted by Officer Paul Schommer in conducting the six hour course which is especially designed for those from age 12 through 17, although older persons may also attend. No one under 18 can obtain a hunting license without first completing the course which will consist of lectures and demonstrations. The course will run from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. A registration fee of 50 cents will be charged and prospective students are asked to register beforehand at the city hall. The department has also scheduled a bike auction for Saturday, Sept. 24, at 10 a.m.

What to recommend?

Council holds hearing tonight on expressway plans

Whether Rincon Ave. now deadended at the expressway, should be opened or whether a pedestrian overpass at the street would be sufficient will be just two of the points under discussion tonight at the City Hall.

A public hearing on what this city's recommendation should be under the Phase II program of the countywide expressway system is scheduled for 8 p.m. by the City Council.

Phase II of the countywide expressway program is proposed to be financed by a $112 million bond issue next February.

The San Tomas Expressway was constructed under Phase I which was financed by a $70 million bond issue in 1962.

ALL CITIES

Campbell, as well as all the other cities in the county, has been asked by the County Transportation Committee to make recommendations for projects that should be included in the overall program.

Guideline for the recommendations is the bulky tentative proposal for Phase II that has been drafted by the county public works department.

This document pinpoints the overall development for the expressway system and suggests the projects that should be considered in each city. Each city has been asked to study the proposal and either approve the suggestions, modify or present different recommendations.

FUND FORMULA

In addition to the suggested facilities that are needed, the hefty document, as drafted by the public works department, includes a formula for allotting funds for expressway projects based on the revenue each city produces from its assessed valuation for bond redemptions.

According to the plan that was followed in Phase I, 70% of the revenue produced would be used in each city for expressway projects and those cities that had no expressways could use their 70% for other streets.

This philosophy has stirred up a hornet's nest among the various municipalities. Expressway cities claim that by being limited to purely expressway projects they are being penalized because expressways are countywide. But "non-expressway cities" get money to improve their streets that have nothing to do with the expressways.

So the various cities in the county, on the whole, are having a field day attempting to draft specific recommendations for projects within their own city limits.

CAMPBELL'S CASE

And Campbell is no exception.

At the hearing tonight, the City Council will attempt to consolidate the various suggestions that have been tossed around for several months into a package that can be wrapped up into this city's recommendation.

But it won't be easy.

What to do about Rincon Ave. is especially a tricky one.

Tow years ago the City Council, the Chamber of Commerce and The Campbell press attempted to get the county to modify the original San Tomas Expressway route through town and open Rincon and Latimer avenues that were blocked by the expressway.

But the efforts were futile.

The question that the City Council must de-

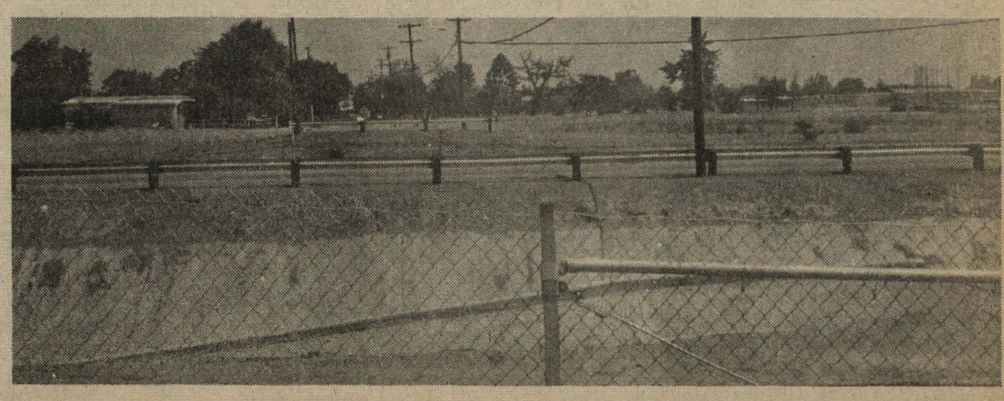
More expressway ?

Because of prior commitments relating to anticipated federal funds, it may be necessary to open two lanes of San Tomas Expressway from Campbell Ave. to Sunnyoaks starting Sept. 12, city officials were informed by the county public works department this week.

City officials had hoped to keep the expressway blocked at Campbell Ave. until the improvements to Budd Ave. had been made.



SHOULD THIS STREET (RINCON) BE OPENED?

Expressway hearing

At a public hearing scheduled for this evening (Wednesday) at the City Hall, it is hoped that this city's recommendation for the projects that should be included in the Phase II program of the countywide expressway system will be hammered out.

But the task of consolidating and reconciling the various viewpoints that have already been presented in the preliminary skirmishes will not be an easy one.

The City of Campbell, along with all the other cities in the county, has been asked to study the proposals presented by the county public works department for the expressway program that will be financed by a $112 million bond issue next February.

The cities have been asked to make their recommendations to the County Transportation Committee which will either adopt or modify them and send them on to the supervisors.

If the supervisors approve the proposal, the bond election will be called.

Campbell's recommendation may not be accepted by the Transportation Committee. Or, for that matter, there is no guarantee that the voters next February (assuming that the time table can be followed) will approve the bond issue.

So these recommendations that the cities have been asked to make are pretty "iffy".

Yet it is extremely important, in our opinion, that this city present a recommendation that has a solid base. Many of the other cities have taken a selfish and provincial attitude and have asked that some of their streets be improved under the expressway project that have nothing to do with the overall county program.

One of the most controversial points involved concerns those cities that have no expressways within their city limits. They are classified as "non-expressway cities".

Under a plan that was adopted in the Phase I program, which was financed by a $70 million bond issue in 1962, the so-called 70% formula was pounded out.

Basically this means that each city will receive 70% of the revenue produced from its assessed valuation for expressway projects within the city limits.

In other words, it is estimated that Campbell would produce $2,171,000 to pay its share of the $112 million bond issue and 70% of this figure would be $1,520,000. This amount or more would be used on the San Tomas expressway through the city, for Campbell is an "expressway city".

However, if a city has no expressway within its city limits, the 70% formula still applies and bond funds would be furnished to improve the streets of these cities.

The formula was devised, naturally, to gain the support for the bond issue from the cities that were not involved directly with any expressway.

Non-expressway cities, therefore, can get their own streets improved from the bond money while expressway cities are "penalized" because the money must be used on an expressway that serves basically to get traffic through a city.

There is considerable merit in the argument that funds raised by the bond issue for the expressway system should be used exclusively for the expressways.

A countywide expressway system is for the benefit of the entire county. Whether or not an expressway hits a town seems unimportant. The actual benefit of an expressway to any one city is questionable.

So much for the philosophy of the program.

The hearing tonight concerns specifics.

Therefore, it is important, in our opinion, that these recommendations that are made should be logical and based on good judgment.

Two years ago The Campbell Press supported the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council in an all-out effort to get Rincon and Latimer avenues reopened. These two streets had been deadended by San Tomas Expressway.

The deadending had been approved by the City Council when the expressway route was originally adopted. But many civic leaders felt that the city had been short-changed by the road block.

But the efforts to get the streets reopened were to no avail. At the time, it was emphasized that perhaps another look should be taken at the situation when Phase II was discussed.

Now Phase II is under discussion. Although The Press was in the forefront two years ago in the battle to reopen Rincon and Latimer, we concede now that perhaps there are other projects with higher priority. We are not even sure at this writing whether it is practical, feasible or economical to reopen the two streets.

The opening of Rincon Ave.; the construction of a pedestrian overpass; the addition of a right turn off-ramp for southbound traffic, are just a few of the possibilities that will be discussed at the hearing tonight.

We submit that the public hearing on the expressway program is important to all citizens of this community, no matter in what part of town they may reside.

We hope you show up.

THAT STORY, by the way, "Query from England," did not go unnoticed by one of the greatest newshawks (in our opinion) in the game, Ralph H. Turner, our close friend, and former boss and associate on The Temple City Times, which we term as the "other" newspaper in our life.

Ralph, now retired, was publisher of The Temple City Times for 17 years AFTER being with the United Press for 30 years previously.

OVER THE YEARS Ralph has always taken a deep interest in the journalistic efforts of Vierhus. But since his retirement he has perused The Press even more thoroughly than before.

He doesn't miss much. He delights in clipping some of the "gems" and returning them to us with waggish and witty marginal notations. We have reported some of them in this column in the past.

OLD SCOOP sent the "Query from England" back to us with the following note:

"You have a good story here, Query from England. Why don't you airmail Rod Beaton, UPI, 8, Bouverie St., London E.C.4 and ask him to check with Treglown & Sons on what the estate and properties are all about. Might be a story for UP, too, and maybe you can get the Pirates of Penzance into the act. Gilbert and Sullivan, the works--..."

Through all the years Turner has kept in contact with his beloved United Press (now United Press International) and the Rod Beaton he mentions happens to be the head of the UPI for Europe, headquartered in London.

BEATON HAD BEEN alerted by Turner last year that we were in London. As a result we were Beaton's guests at a luncheon while there.

We would be happy to give his wire service the dope. But, holy smokes, The Press gets results on its own too fast.

Letters to the Editor

ANSWERS EDITOR

Dear George:

In response to your apparent criticism of the so-called "westside" area of townspeople for not being present at the council meeting, I would like to make the following comments.

The Westside Safety Committee was not a permanently established committee, but was made up for the specific purpose of bringing the matter to the council's attention which was accomplished.

Many others as well as myself probably had legitimate reasons for not being able to be present, even if it was not for "Grandma's funeral." However, even if we were not present, I assume that our elected representatives recognize that the situation regarding the expressway required correction and they would follow thru and do so.

I am sure you recognize that in today's society most people do not have a great deal of time available to spend in areas of government and therefore rely on our representatives to carry thru policies required for public safety. In this matter, myself and some others have discussed the problem with the people in both the school system and local government during last spring and the summer months.

After our discussions and the presentation of their views to us I have been greatly relieved; however, should things go awry as before I would not hesitate to try and bring as much local pressure on the council and school board as we did last fall.

In closing, for myself at least, I wish to make it clear that my absence did not mean a lack of interest.

Yours truly,
Kenneth Sanders

Council to meet

Four zone change hearings are scheduled for the City Council meeting next Monday, Sept. 12, as well as a hearing on the bid opening for street maintenance work for the city.

The city will also receive a pedestrian safety award from the American Automobile Association at the meeting and police officers who have completed the police administration course will be given awards.

Also scheduled is the first reading on the modified building code ordinance which up-date the city's building standards.

cide is whether there are other projects that should take priority to the opening of Rincon?

And there even seems to be some question whether it is necessary to have Rincon opened at all, provided a pedestrian overpass is placed there.

Mayor Ralph Doetsch has indicated in previous discussions that he favors a signalized crossing at Rincon. He is fighting to have such a project included in the city's recommendation.

Other council members and staff personnel are not so sure whether this would be good planning. An overpass would block off Virginia and a signalized grade crossing would slow down traffic on the expressway.

OVERPASS

A pedestrian overpass at Rincon is highly favored by the Parks Commission as well as the Planning Commission. And because of the short stacking lane at Virginia and Campbell avenues near the expressway interchange, a right turn off-ramp for southbound traffic at Rincon has been suggested.

Councilman Bill Smeed, as this city's representative on the County Transportation Committee, will submit the recommendation to that group. Smeed has cautioned his fellow council members that the recommendations must be sound, if they are to be given serious consideration.

He also pointed out that if the city should reverse itself on the Rincon crossing situation, the basic reasons for the change in viewpoint should be specified.

It is also possible that the City Council, after the hearing tonight, might recommend that a number of heavily-traveled streets within the city limits be improved from the expressway funds as is the case in the non-expressway cities. A list of improvements necessary for Campbell streets totals more than $1 million.

Everyone is agreed, however, that the recommendations made by this city as well as other cities will have a direct bearing on fate of the entire countywide expressway system.

Cooperation and coordination is needed from all, if the $112 million bond package is to get off the ground.

WV College acts to replace 'unsafe' buildings on campus

One of the buildings of the old Campbell Grammer School, now occupied by West Valley College, previously rated as unsafe under the Field Act relating to earthquakes has been found to be satisfactory Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, has reported.

However, six classrooms in "Building A" will be vacated by Sept. 19 to be replaced by other classrooms on on the campus.

Dr. Hall said that "Building F" has been found to be within the Field Act specifications since it was built in 1940.

The six rooms to be vacated are all lecture classrooms but specialized rooms, such as the library, typing rooms, laboratories and language labs will continue to be used until such time as new classrooms as replacements are built.

The board has authorized an agreement with the architectural firm of Higgins and Root for preparation of plans and specifications for the construction of relocatable buildings to replace the buildings in Building A to include five portable classrooms, two portable toilet buildings, one physical education building and not more than 25 portable classrooms.

Dr. Hall reported also on a survey he has made on facilities available in surrounding school districts. Four classrooms are available in the Campbell Union School District, but severe scheduling problems might result from attempting to dovetail student schedules for classes they might have both on the main Campbell campus and at such schools some distance away.

Arson experts to meet here for three days

Campbell Fire Department will be host to the California conference of arson investigators on Monday, Tuesday-Wednesday (Sept. 12-14), according to Fire Marshal Gene Borden.

Approximately 150 fire and police investigators from northern California will attend the sessions which will include the actual burning of two buildings and the investigation for evidence of arson.

Campbell Fire Captain Jerry Gomes will be in charge of the burning assisted by members of the Los Gatos and Central Fire district departments. After the field work, the investigators will consult with lab technicians on the more technical phases. According to Borden, the experience will give the investigators an opportunity to learn how both the novice and expert arsonist operates.

John Reilly, special agent for the American Insurance Association, will conduct the seminar training program assisted by the Santa Clara County's fire marshal's office and the Santa Clara Fire Department.

Richard Cardelli, local distributor for Phillips Oil, has contributed the fuel needed for the burning of the buildings, Borden said.

Imported cars

A wide variety of foreign-made cars will be on display at the Campbell Shopping Center (Winchester at Latimer) Thursday-Friday-Saturday (Sept. 15-16-17).

The merchants in the center in cooperation with Ken Keegan Imported Cars of Los Gatos are presenting the display of imported cars.

College opens

Although the final tabulation of the opening enrollment of West Valley College has not yet been made, just prior to the opening of college on Sept. 6, a total of 5612 students had been programmed.

Of this number, 3454 were full-time day students and 2150 extended day. It is expected the actual enrollment will be substantially greater.

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the bond campaign headquarters for the West Valley College bond election, on Nov. 8, will take place Wednesday, Sept. 14 at 7:30 p.m. The headquarters is located at 70 W. Mission Way, Campbell.

FORMER RANCH

Before the Public Health Service built a quarantine station on Angel Island in San Francisco Bay in 1893, the island was the site of a sheep and cattle ranch.

Bob Mathias to be YMCA speaker

Two-time Olympic Decathlon Champion Bob Mathias will be speaker for the annual Century Club dinner of the Metropolitan YMCA Wednesday, Sept. 14.

The Century Club is composed of members who have contributed $100 or more to the YMCA's youth programs for the benefit of under-privileged boys. It is part of the "Y's" policy that no boy be denied participation because of lack of funds.

Mathias, who captured the prestigious Decathlon title in the 1948 Olympics in London and the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki, Finland, has long been a leader in youth programs.

The program, under the direction of chairman Chester Root, will get under way at 5:30 p.m. with a social hour, followed by the dinner, featuring hefty steaks, at 6:30.

The battery of chefs included Vic Corsiglia, Al Ruffo and Weller Curtner.

The event will be held in the Central YMCA, 1717 The Alameda, San Jose, and all friends of the "Y" are invited. Reservations are limited to 250 persons and may be made before Friday, Sept. 9, by calling the Central "Y", 298-1717, or the Southwest "Y", 356-7126.

All last year St. Lucy's Catholic School was unable to fly its American flag from its 45-foot pole because the hook that holds the flag stuck at the top. Last Saturday a PT & T truck came to the rescue with its special equipment.

Last Thursday at the Planning Commission meeting the problem that presented itself for the first time was whether in the Winchester Rd. case the extra width needed should come from the east side, west side or off both sides.

This week Officer Carl Arnold participated in the capture of a raccoon who had paid an unscheduled visit to the home of Elmer Hammers at 581 E. Campbell. The raccoon entered the home and climbed onto the bed of Hammer.

Members of the merchants committee of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce met Monday night at the Campbell Furniture and Appliance Store to discuss methods of installing a trading stamp plan for use in Campbell stores.

The Campbell Lions Club was officially dedicated at their charter night held recently. Approximately 300 Lions from all parts of northern California attended the meeting at which District Governor Les Olson presented the charter.

Tentative plans for the expansion of Campbell Union School District call for the construction of five new schools. Plans for three of the schools, Quito, Rosemary and Cypress, have already been submitted to the authorities.

A group of residents in the Cambrian area are circulating petitions seeking the exclusion of certain areas in the Cambrian district from the proposed boundaries of the incorporated city of Campbell.

The opening dates of the fall sessions of the Campbell Union High School and the Campbell Elementary School District have been postponed until Sept. 17 because the contractors shutdown has halted construction of buildings which had been scheduled for completion before the opening of school.

Opposition to the proposed West Valley Hospital District developed at a meeting of approximately 50 interested citizens of the Saratoga area in the Saratoga Elementary School last week.

Teachers association lists 'hows' and 'whys' for tests

There's one thing no student will be able to avoid during the school year ahead--plenty of tests.

They come in many forms and sizes and are administered for varying purposes. Some are intended solely to diagnose pupil learning problems, while others are to measure the student's achievement--either as a guide to future instruction or as a device for grading.

DISTURBING

It's this last function of testing which disturbs most teachers because they consider school grades a false motivation for learning, according to the California Teachers Association.

"Teachers recognize that many aspects of learning and development are not reflected in objective tests, but time limitations generally rule out essay type tests which require many hours for correcting when a teacher has hundreds of pupils each day," the CTA said.

However, since grades and objective testing are part of the "system" mandated by college admission requirements, and since the student's future in higher education or vocations may be affected seriously by the way he approaches tests, teachers acknowledge that students should learn the art of test-taking for self preservation.

TIPS FROM CTA

Here are some helpful tips from the CTA on taking tests:

--Read the test directions carefully. Ask any questions you may have about the test before you start.

--Find out the scoring system. On some tests you'll be penalized for a wrong answer. On other tests there will be no penalties attached so obviously it will pay to make a guess about the answer.

--Answer the questions you're sure of first. Then go back and work on the others. Then, at least, you will have gained all the points you can get on answers you know.

--Budget your time on the test. Keep an eye on the clock so you can allow more time for the most difficult parts of the test, or the parts where the scores will mean the most.

--After you've finished the entire test, re-read everything to make sure you haven't made some obvious "goof," like forgetting to put down your name, class or section number. In the body of the test, unless you're sure your first answer was wrong, let it stand--your first hunch is most likely to be correct.

OTHER TIPS

There are also tips for different kinds of tests:

--True-False Tests: Be careful of qualifying words (all, some, many, none, always, never, most) for the answer frequently hinges on these words.

Multiple-Choice Tests: Eliminate the obviously wrong answers first, and then spend more time on the two or three left.

--Completion Tests: Unless there's a penalty attached for wrong answers, fill in the blank space, even if you're not certain the answer you give is the "right" one. A number of answers could be correct and yours could well be one of them.

--Short Answer Tests: Give the specific answer asked for, but if you're not sure just what the teacher wants, then ask.

--Essay Tests: It's best to make a brief outline on scratch paper to make sure that when you're writing the essay you don't forget anything. It's better to write too much than too little, but be precise, give examples and write clearly.

PREPARATION

The CTA also offered pupils some tips to follow for test preparation:

--Keep a written study schedule and budget your time, but don't be too rigid about it. The schedule should be a guide, not a blueprint.

--Keep a schedule of what you've covered since the last test. Then you'll understand what material you're expected to know for the next one.

--Review regularly. If you don't, it may be too late. Besides, research shows that learning is much more efficient when a student constantly reviews that material he's studied. Ask yourself questions as you skim material already studied. Try to relate each part of the study to the whole. List important facts. If you wait to cram for an exam, you may just get mixed up on the material you already know and lose the rest and relaxation you'll need before the test.

College offers evening real estate courses

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lueck will make home in New York

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK C. LUECK, JR.
(SHARON JANES)

Rev. Ed Cunningham, former pastor of the Congregational Church of Campbell, united Miss Sharon Janes and Frederick Charles Lueck in marriage last month. The double ring ceremony was held in the Church of the Valley in San Jose.

The petite brunette bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Janes of 1786 Regina Way, Campbell, was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a beautiful gown of peau de soi designed and made by her mother. It featured long tapered sleeves and cape collar of lace embroidered with pearls and crystal drops. The bouffant skirt ended in a Chapel train. Her finger-tip illusion veil was edged with lace and she carried a bouquet of carnations and stephanotis, centered with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Dennis Britton of Los Gatos, was the matron of honor. Her aqua chiffon gown over taffeta featured floating back panels. Her bouquet was a white cornucopia filled with a cascade of white daisies and ivy. Phyllis Cunningham and Mrs. Robert Hartley were the bridesmaids. Their gowns matched the matron of honor and they carried cornucopias of yellow daisies and ivy. Rhonda Janes, sister of the bride, was the candlelighter. She was attired in the same aqua as the other bridal attendants and carried yellow daisies and pom pom mums. Charles Minx served as best man and ushering duties were performed by Craig Janes, and Michael Pinkston.

The Campbell Country Woman's Club was the setting for the reception. A three tiered wedding cake, also made by the bride's mother, was decorated with wedding bells and roses.

Following a Carmel honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Brooklyn, New York.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F.C. Lueck Sr., of Chicago, Ill. A June graduate of Southern Illinois University he will study at New York University for his masters degree in Radio and Television Writing and Production.

Sharon is a graduate of Campbell High School and San Jose State College. She is a stewardess for United Airlines and will continue to work with the company in New York.

Out of town guests included the bridegroom's parents from Chicago, also Mrs. L.O. Tucker of Kingman, Ariz., the bride's grandmother; Miss Cheryl Cox of Chicago, and several others.

Church slates new program

A new program will be introduced at the Campbell Congregational Church next Sunday morning, Sept. 11, with the opening of Church School. Children will join their parents for the first 15 minutes of worship service before attending Sunday School classes of their own.

Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers, pastor, reports that an adult forum will be held following church services, to which all church members are invited to participate. The discussion will be led by Robert Culp, George Lunday and Robert Culbertson. A coffee hour will follow in the church patio.

Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Troop 211, Hazelwood School, Campbell, have just completed a weeks camping at Big Sur State Park. There were 22 troop members who participated; Dana Rawlinson, Carla Mesquita, Debbie Blake, Joan Evans, Kathy Klimek, Wendy Groot, Joy Michalek, Rosie Falcon, DeeAnn Cleveland, Anna Tyrfingsson, Janice Duncan, Jean Bicocca, Jan Washington, Debbie Wade, Sally Jo Allen, Rene Murphy, Becky Murphy, Debbie Clapes, Dorothy Clapes, Sherrie Hofheins, and Paula Carpenter.

Two Cadets went with the Troop as Program Aides: Connie Sisler from Troop 950, Los Gatos and Ann Swain from Troop 290, San Jose. Mothers who accompanied the girls were; Mrs. Roxy A. Clapes, leader, Mrs. Donald L. Evans; assistant, Mrs. Baker Cleveland, Mrs. Richard Hofheins, and Mrs. Richard Michalek. Not to be out done were our three Scouts to be: Wendy Hofhiens, who will join the troop in the fall, and Julie and Janet Evans.

The girls departed from Campbell Aug. 21 for Big Sur where they enjoyed hiking, fishing, swimming, and an extra special treat of having the Cadets from South Bay Council as their neighbors. The last night was spent exchanging songs at our own Campfire with the Cadets. This proved to be a wonderful experience for both groups: Two age groups in our scouting program came together and shared their experiences. The Cadets gave much to our troop in the way of songs and a look into what's ahead for a Junior Girl Scout in the scouting program.

Friday, Aug. 26 on the return trip home the girls visited the San Carlos Mission in Carmel; then on to Monterey to see the Historical Monuments which included the Custom House, Pacific House, and the First Theatre to mention a few.

The trip was financed by the girls through a Thrifty Sale which was conducted in the spring. We would like to thank all those who helped make the sale a success and in so doing make it possible for the girls to have a camping experience this summer.

THE RIGHT TO BEAR ARMS by Carl Bakal

When, on Nov. 22, 1963, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States, was shot to death, he became the most celebrated, but not the only American to fall victim that day to the "strange plague which has long swept our land--a plague of guns."

Every half hour one of your fellow citizens dies of bullet wounds. Many more are blinded, crippled, hurt by firearms. Yet in this highly protective society of ours there are no laws to control the ownership of firearms. Why? Carl Bakal answers some of these questions.

POSTSCRIPT FROM HIROSHIMA by Rafael Steinberg

An intimate portrait of the people of Hiroshima and their city--twenty years after the Bomb. One visable scar remains on the rebuilt city; the untouched blasted ruin of the old industrial exhibition hall, known as the Atomic Dome.

Hardly noticed by the young, it is to the survivors a solemn symbol of the disaster which even after twenty years, is still adding to the casuality list of World War II.

Garden Club begins season

The Campbell Garden Club will officially open its fall season on Wednesday, Sept. 14, at the Fireside Room of the Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave.

After a summer of informal meetings held at the home of various members, the club is returning to its usual meeting place. A very instructive program is planned and guests are welcome.

Mrs. Henry Blohm, horiticultural chairman, will give information on methods of combating the general garden enemy, oak leaf fungus. She has also planned a plant exchange so that members may share their surplus plants with one another.

Mrs. Minnie Snyder, who is a long time enthusiast, will explain the growing and care of African violets. As a special feature there will be an informal "Flower Show" of arrangements brought by members and judged simply "for fun."

Mrs. Ward Brannon will preside at the business meeting and the committee in charge of refreshments includes Mesdames James Hartman, George Kolze, Alfred Johnson, James Fields and Richard Hage.

Social Side

School time is PTA time

When the children start off to school, it's prime time to join the PTA. And in this school year, PTA's throughout the country are moving forward on programs that seek to involve all parents - and other adults interested in children's welfare - in ever better education, health, and opportunity for all children.

This year, the PTA plans to experiment with new methods of reaching the non-participating parents - the working mother, the parent-without-partner, the residents of urban slums or depressed rural areas. New programs, too, will deal with children's health, safety and education. One such project, undertaken with the U.S. Public Health Service, will attempt to discourage seventh and eighth graders from starting to smoke cigarettes.

On other subjects, as well, the PTA has a full schedule of "critical issues" ripe for action.

For every parent, the PTA has an ideal assignment; to work with men and women who share concern for children and youth, to enjoy a better understanding of yourself and your family, to take pride in working in an organization of national renown and international reputation.

At Campbell High School, Mrs. Paul Wagner is president. She has compiled a handbook for parents containing the PTA program for the year, names of the members of the faculty, and who to call to answer certain questions. Helpful hints for parents are also included in this little booklet with information on school policy concerning dress requirements, the use of a car, homework, and extracurricular activities. A calendar of student activities is also listed.

Artists' Guild to have speaker

Phyl Lauer of Sunnyvale will give a watercolor demonstration at the next meeting of the Campbell artists' Guild at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 14, in the Americana Room of the America Savings and Loan Association, 1285 Lincoln Ave., Willow Glen.

Teri Bowen and Richard Sciuto pledge vows at St. Lucy's

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sciuto (Teri Bowen)

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sciuto are making their home in San Jose following their marriage last month at St. Lucy's Catholic Church. The bride is the former Teri Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bowen of 1125 E. Fewtrell Dr., Campbell.

Rev. Gerald Horan officiated at the double ring ceremony before 400 friends and relatives.

Teri's gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza was styled with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. A princess crown of lace and pearl held her silk illusion veil in place. She carried a cascade of white bridal roses and ivy.

Miss Toni Wood of Campbell, friend of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Doris Ostwald, Mrs. Diane Otterlei and Miss Cathy Wood, all of San Jose. The maid of honor was attired in a pale pink gown of chiffon over taffeta and carried a French bouquet of shocking pink carnations. The bridesmaids wore matching gowns of Cherry pink, and carried French bouquets of pink carnations.

Ralph Scelzi of Sunnyvale, cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers were Larry Kuczler, Peter Herrera, Ed Ristad, Nelson McCarley and Donald Van Straaten.

A reception was held at the Little New Yorker in Santa Clara. The newlyweds cut a beautiful five-tiered wedding cake and a buffet supper was served. The couple left for a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and are now settled in San Jose.

The bride is a graduate of Del Mar High School and attended San Jose City College. She is employed as a secretary for Philco Corp. in Palo Alto.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sciuto of Sunnyvale. A graduate of Fremont High School, he attended Foothill College and is now employed at Philco Corp. in Palo Alto. He is a member of the California National Guard.

FIREMAN MODEL--Fireman Art Martin recently was the model for members of Mrs. Judy Howland's art class who sketched posters noting Fire Prevention Week Oct. 9-15. Posters made by the adult education art class which meets in the Country Woman's Club will be displayed throughout the city prior to the annual week. Virginia Ward, one of the students, is in the foreground completing a sketch of Martin. Prizes will be awarded to the four most outstanding poster entries.

Train hits car; driver unhurt

Mrs. Cora Hennigan, 33, of 16494 Harwood Dr., in Los Gatos, miraculously escaped serious injury last Thursday when a Southern Pacific train sheared off the front end of her car.

Mrs. Hennigan told Campbell Police she was stopped at the traffic light at the SP crossing at Sunnyoaks and Winchester. She saw the engine coming and attempted to back up, but another driver was right behind her. While debating whether to go ahead or back into the vehicle behind her, she apparently stalled her car.

The engineer, Forrest S. Titus of San Jose, reported he saw the vehicle, but could not stop in time, although he applied the emergency brake. The train's momentum carried it into Mrs. Hennigan's late model Mercedes convertible.

California public schools to show 200,000 gain this fall

Enrollment in California public schools, kindergarten through the fourteenth year in junior college, will be 200,000 more this fall than last September--an increase greater than the total pupil enrollment in 12 states.

A total of 5,400,000 part-time and full-time pupils and 170,000 full-time teachers--one quarter of California's total population of more than 19 million--will answer the public school bell this fall as the annual summer vacation ends. This is the second year California's total enrollment has surpassed the five million mark.

These figures are projections for the 1966-67 school year prepared by the California State Department of Education.

Additional statistics from the Department and the California Teachers Association (CTA) show that:

Total thirteenth and fourteenth grade (junior college) enrollment will be 300,000 this year, compared to 273,000 last year. This increase of 27,000--nine per cent--in one year makes the junior colleges one of the fastest growing sectors in the state's educational system.

Total kindergarten enrollment this year will be 375,000, compared to 365,000 last year--a 2.7 per cent increase.

Total first through eighth grade enrollment will be 2,720,000 this year, compared to 2,646,000 last year--a 2.7 per cent increase.

Total ninth through twelth grade enrollment will be 1,158,000 this year, compared to 1,110,513 last year--a 4.1 per cent increase.

Total full-time enrollment at all campuses of the State College System will be 113,700 this year, compared to 104,890 last year--a 7.7 per cent increase.

Total full-time enrollment at all campuses of the University of California will be 88,391 this year, compared to 78,091 last year--an 11.6 per cent increase.

Total enrollment for special school classes will be 746,000, compared to 720,000 last year.

California's elementary and secondary schools will have 8,000 more full-time teachers on the payroll this year than last year.

About 40,000 pupils will be on half-day sessions this year compared to 50,000 last year.

Panelli resigns from JC Board

Edward A. Panelli, a charter member of the Board of Trustees of the West Valley Junior College District, has submitted his resignation because he is moving out of the high school district which he was elected to represent.

Panelli, a San Jose attorney, has moved to 21051 Bank Mill Lane, in Saratoga, from 18911 Ainsley Place, Saratoga. The move takes him out of the Campbell High School District and into the Los Gatos High School District.

Adults can take computer course

Because many clerical supervision and management jobs have been affected recently by introduction of electronic data procedures, first hand knowledge of the mechanics of a computerized operation or business is offered in a course by Lockheed engineer, Walter Bennert at Leigh Adult Center, corner of Leigh Ave. at Los Gatos-Almaden Rd., each Monday 7-10 p.m. beginning Sept. 12.

This fall semester course, according to E. P. Stanley, Campbell director of adult education, will not require previous experience in the field or special preparation in mathematics.

The instructor will offer another introductory course, Semiconductor, Diodes & Transistors on Thursday evenings starting Sept. 15.

Other courses in job training, general education or high school diploma completion are available for sign up at Campbell Adult School Office, 1945 Winchester Blvd., Campbell 9a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except Friday at 4:30 p.m.

SJS extension service offers many courses

More than 100 courses will be offered by the Extension Services of San Jose State College for the coming fall semester, Dr. Frank G. Willey, coordinator of the extension program, has announced.

Some 25 subject areas will be covered in courses to be offered in Santa Clara, San Mateo, San Benito, Santa Cruz and Monterey Counties, with 65 classes scheduled in Santa Clara County.

Among the subject areas included in this fall's extension program are anthropology, art, audio-visual, business, counselling and guidance, education, engineering, English, French, geography, health and hygiene, history, home economics, industrial arts, mathematics, music, philosophy, political science, psychology, reading improvement, science education, sociology, Spanish, speech correction and women's education.

Most of the classes begin the week of Sept. 19. Fees for the courses, most of which are offered for two or three-units, is $15 per unit. Time and place of class meetings will be announced later.

Those interested in receiving more information about the SJSC Extension Program for the fall semester may write the Extension Services, San Jose State College, 125 South Seventh Street, San Jose 95114, or call 294-6414 ext. 2211.

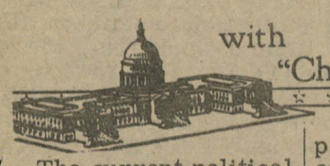
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



The current political vogue is to find a popular slogan with humanitarian appeal and pass a law around it. The laws never seem to work, but do provide the basis of campaign oratory.

Senator Robert Kennedy, obviously running hard for the presidency, has taken the lead in the latest slogan contest designed to save our cities. With Senator Ribicoff he recently summoned mayors of large cities as if they were errant school boys.

Mayor John Lindsay of New York was reluctant to guess how much money New York City would need from the federal government but Senator Kennedy pressed the issue and finally the Mayor "guessed" it would take $50 billion in the next decade.

Immediately Senator Kennedy took the Mayor to task for such grandiose notions. But a few day's earlier, he had chastised the Johnson Administration for its "drop in the bucket" expenditures upon city problems.

It is evident that cities are a coming political issue. A massive legislative program is inevitable and the Demonstration Cities Program appears to be the opener.

Legislation to create demonstration cities may have some merit but the bill which will soon be before the House is almost unbelievable. It authorizes $900 million for a Demonstration Cities Program but does not designate where the demonstrations will be.

It does, however, list 52 separate "pork barrel" projects in various congressional districts. Thanks to Senator Sparkman, a key member of the Senate committee which considered the bill, the University of Alabama is eligible to receive $100 million.

As a practical matter, it would impose a metropolitan system of government. No federal grants for hospitals, urban renewal, public housing, community development, etc., could be made to any city unless those grants were approved by a metropolitan planning commission.

Urban Redevelopment now requires that local governments pay 25% of the cost of urban renewal projects. Under the Demonstration Cities Program 80% of the local share would be assumed by the federal taxpayer.

So, in effect, the federal share would be increased from 75 to 95% in urban renewal projects. This amounts to a federal subsidy to encourage taking a subsidy and is a candid admission that federal grants and federal programs have failed to solve city problems.

Cities undoubtedly do need help, but I hope they will not get the same kind of help which farms have gotten. In the '30's, depression and dust storms showed the nation the desolation on the farm.

So federal programs to help the farmer began. The result was that farm people left the farm, went to the city, caused the current urban problem, and were replaced in the country by big business--commonly called "agri-business".

If there is a moral to this story it is this--If a human problem is to be solved, it takes something more than a bill with a fancy title.

Twelve rules for raising delinquent children

Here is an interesting item taken from the weekly bulletin of the First Methodist Church of Campbell.

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.

2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up "cuter" phrases that will blow off the top of your head later.

3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him "decide for himself."

4. Avoid use of the word "wrong." It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later, when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he is being persecuted.

5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around--books, shoes, and clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.

6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage.

7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later.

8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?

9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink, and comfort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.

10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.

11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying "I never could do anything for him."

12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be likely to have it.

SEALS DROP
When the Pribilof Islands off Alaska were discovered in 1786, the seal population numbered about 4 million; by 1910, due to exploitation by hunters of Canada, United States and Japan, they numbered only 130.000.
